RECORD

No. 1020

September 15. 1954

I know something! This was planned by the Higher Power. Our meeting, our marriage and all the unpleasantness and sorrow which accompanied the joy of our two and one half years as man and wife, and now the suffering of separation.

I was sent to him and he was sent to me by the Highest God. I am to serve him in a way which no other person is capable, and I know this is true not from an egoistic standpoint. I am little enough developed, I know, for such a great, complicated and soved task. But, it shall be so.

I have been prepared, trained, passed through a bitter school of teaching, these past years, beginning with the Illumination and when and when it will end, I do not know.

He loves me terribly. I know this, too. We were both thrown into this for a higher reason and gradually, gradually this reason was revealed to us. All the circumstances involved in the seeming, worldly "error" of our marriage do seem to the dunced mind that we both fell into it through our mortal weaknesses, rushing madly into a relationship doomed on every side to failure.

Still, God does work in mysterious ways! He knew what he was pushing us into.

Without the marriage, it would have been impossible for me in less than twenty years, by which it would have been too late, to Understand him, and what my relationship and duty was to him. He has also deemed. though they are different lessons than mine.

For the time being I must gain much practical, mature knowledge of life, people and myself. I must become stabilized in myself, first the ego, then the Higher self. I must equip myself with a positive working understanding which will keep me abreast the waves of situations, events, circumstances.

I know these things from an inner, divine, personal source which comes not from thoughts or logic but from knowing.

At last I have been able to receive true emotion free intuition and I feel at peace over this situation for the first time.

I thank thee for giving me this knowledge!

September 3rd - I love you and I can never love another. Who could match your purity? I have the desire to ascend to your level. I love you, cherish you, adore your light. You are for me to love, another could never match your attainment. You are pure, powerful, great. I love you.

Your presence raises me up. Your vibration is high. How can I repay for these hours spent with me? I would die for you. This is Truth I speak.

I am feeling a Oneness with you which is transcending marriage, society and all other forms. It is permanent, deep and alive. It is powerful, this unity!

and This is love. Profound, real,
lasting..... quiet yet strong; it is Eternal for it is God.

Sept. 6th

Yes, I love. But there is a great handicap to it being between - such as we.
Intellectually we are far apart. We are sometimes like strangers and I start to become dependent, childish and cry inside and sometimes visibly when this re-education begins.
Now I can understand objectively that this has been our greatest difficulty right through our marriage.

I saw his face again tonight listening to the Intellectual - spiritual words of the old Jap monk. There his mind lies - in these words of spirit - it lightens his whole body and his face becomes radiant. This is his mental home.
I must meet him there.

Go to the library, visit old book shops, read, digest, assimilate spiritual knowledge rationally and meet his mind in its home.

Dear fellow. It has been difficult for you having such a loving companion these years. Forgive me my darling. I was only a simple, vain, self-centered child.

Be patient. I will come to you fully one day.

Sept 7th - A short visit and you told me my greater task and duty now is to gain control... mastery of my emotions. As you say, my guide, my guiding light and love.

Sept 8th

I was stupid of me not to sympathize with your moods, wishes, desires. Instead I stand self-centeredly by, thinking only of my little self and all the futile striving it for its position. Are you a woman or a child? Well then, now you must assert your womanhood and rise above yourself, greet others, carry out their wishes, sympathize with their moods.

Remember what J. told you. "At times
he voluntarily breaks those he loves aside and wants to be completely alone,
but when this mood of loneliness changes he is like a child who wants you to sing and play with him as if he had never turned you away."

Be ready to leave him at a moment's notice and ready to return just as quickly, full of love & cheerfulness.

Tonight sitting beside you listening to the evidence to Prokhor's letter, I lost all consciousness of where I was,
and what was taking place around me.
It was as though I was cut off from my senses. I was far away. This particular happening has never occurred before to my present knowledge. It was not the usual absent-mindedness, but something much deeper, with more awareness. At last when I realized that this was taking place and I felt such peace and detachment, though not knowing how, just when or why it had descended upon me.

I looked quickly at P.B. and saw that he was in deep, deep meditation. I had picked up his powerful vibration and had penetrated with him those sacred distant regions. For the first time we meditated together.

Don Markova swept lightly onto the stage and as I watched her delicate sandal-foot, most beautiful movements, I seemed to grow into an ecstasy which surpassed emotion, body and self. I felt radiant, all knowing, thrilled in a delectable vibration of light and beauty.

It passed away so gradually that some still remains with me at this moment; some fragile sense of freedom, of peace, of beauty.

May I become worthy of you love.

Sept. 9th - "Here you are living within your small self, acting only from the ego, when all the time the Great Self exists with such bliss and realization that you want to become with joy to

Step out of your small ego into this Oneness. Here is a Self which is unbelievable to the ego." Strive towards it with will and discipline.

Sept. 10th (Friday)

"Your spiritual home will be Alaya
which means in Sanskrit, the soul of the Universe.
Oh my love, I feel such stimulation coming from you. Being near to you, alone like this makes me feel comforted,
relaxed, content. You know that I love you. Do not cry! Do you not know that we are closer than ever before. You are nearer to me. Much has been gained, and you have opened up to receive me. Do you feel my presence always around you?
We are growing closer all the time."

His deep eyes looked down at me penetratingly, and he was kind. Powerful is he. He imparted strength and peace into my self.

It is true. A strange, new, strong mysterious union is taking place between us.

He needs to come to me, to lie in the warmth of my arms, to receive my affectionate caresses, to feel this union. I am important to him and must consciously develop as I can fill more of his needs. He must be always first in my life.

Sept. 14th

Bless you for wanting to come for an evening alone with me. And for that surprise visit at Santa Monica hearing every sentence and looking as though you were in a "captivating" spirit.

You love me & want to be in my presence! I cannot express my thankfulness for this.

"You know that I love you. As long as there is love the outer relationship is not important. You will one day completely know this. You will soon always feel my presence in your heart and you will want to do me physically to have this feeling. We will meditate each time I visit you so that the inner bond will become more secure. You will find we will grow closer than was ever possible before because we will share & love the important aspects of life.

When I move to a new place you may come to prepare meals & look after me. I would like you to do these things for me.

You have two missions in life and you must pursue both, not neglecting one for the other. You must aim to help people spiritually and you must care for me."

"I am opening orders and all effort must be made to prepare & acquire good health."

(I must know his food, seeing he needs the right proportions, combinations, and quality, always fresh. Also that he has fresh air walks, breathing exercises, & massage every day.)

Everything must be done to keep him well and strong. I feel it my greatest desire, my duty & my mission to watch over him.

Oh my beloved, I love you so. My life is you & you are me.

"Be strong, my love. You must face the world. It is certain that we must attain that state where ~~all~~ all negativities must be wiped out, even depression, and go completely so that these negativities cannot be excited ~~with~~ with no matter what the circumstances are, because they exist no longer.

You must continue (you will visit Detroit). Have faith in yourself & your ability to sing and go ahead & make you success. Your opportunity is ~~just~~ waiting for you, but you, yourself must go out & meet it.

I learned this lesson too very hard, and after waiting for so long for something to happen I finally made up my mind that I was going to make it happen. It did & everything that I set my mind on having come to me."

Sept. 16th

"About Mrs. Lealie: You were willing to sacrifice all your material security to give him love and companionship. You were womanly, motherly, warm, friendly & companionable. You looked of his interests, you studied them and discussed them. Above all you were always kind & understanding, keeping a strong individuality, thus always remaining interesting & stimulating. He needed you for in your presence he could relax, become a simple boy again, laugh & do all the things he has kept hidden deep inside.

You forget yourself, Mrs. Leslie to give him love & comfort. You were a saint. "I wonder just when it is that we begin making our future days, I suppose enjoyment."

"I had to learn to laugh, learn to survive, I always do, somehow!" No matter how he had to live outwardly, in the face of the world, inwardly and truly he was with you, in love, in trust, and what is more important?

You brought into existence his real self, made him laugh, cared for him, loved him. You never asked questions but was silent.

Fill these remaining years with all you can give!

Sept 17th (Mon)

O remembers this morning, my darling, how just before & on the day of our marriage you spoke thus: "What a rare thing it is for two people to look into each other's eyes like this and share such spiritual light & magic"

Yes, I gave him the best part of himself. The spiritual. In no he saw for a few days the light of that outside himself and he wanted to have me always with him, for upliftment and inspiration.

The greatest service you can render him is to be always spiritual, kind, and cheery.

Be true & know that I AM God!

October 11th 1954

After weeks of depression and sickness, tonight with you, my love, my guru, came the climax of complete emotional abandonment. I was lost in a sea of tears, self-pity, loneliness, helplessness.

"You must use your combined reason and will," you said "to overcome your strong emotional nature. Be strong - courageous. Affirm! Look at the bright side, can't you blessings. Do not look back. Live now in the present moment. Keep love in your heart for all tangled with understanding and forgiveness."

You are now longer a child! As long as your life is ruled by emotion it will continue to be chaotic. You must make a plan and stick to it.

I cannot give you my consent or any money to go to India until the proper conditions are brought about so that you are protected both on the journey and during your stay there.

Study and master, practice with. It will give you a solid, positive emotional foundation for the Quest of the Self. You know the principles intellectually and intuitively but whenever an emotional issue comes forth you are lost and are thrown back to beneath the beginner's stage of development. Start with the Self and only after you have mastered this proceed.

The Love between Chela and Denu is the greatest love of all.
It is unity itself. Married love is only selfish attachment but the I Love leads you to the attainment of God. You are united in a Love so strong nothing can ever separate you. You are always in his presence in worldly. I love you Denu and I love you.

Come be happy all comrades.
The greatest thing you can do for me is to gain control of yourself and whenever you want to give way to emotion talk it with reason and overcome it with will.

I am teaching you all the time.
Start now to practice.

First all all do not show any outward sign of negative emotion in speech or action. Keep up inside and cleanse the thought and fight it out. Use affirmations and understanding heads. David Deadman's give good on psychology.

Be discriminate but loving, like but understanding, good but expressing natural characteristics.

You must stand alone now.
Beise up your burden to God, but at the same time do all you can to improve yourself and consequently the situations arising from your own actions & thoughts. Be Brave!

* * * * *

Thank you GOD for your gift shining through Him. I am humbly grateful. He is your Light.

October 27th

At last I am alone with the sea.
After all this pain, I am alone and the sea deceives me. Hear that roaring sound of endless waves crashing against the soft sand.

Who am I? What do I want? Love hope, wisdom, or security in life?
This noise on endless beach that I cannot turn back, I feel swept up in some onrushing power which throws me ahead of myself.
